Adam Frisch Said He Would Have Voted Against Funding The United States Military.

In June 2023, Frisch Sent A Press Release Critical Of Boebert's NDAA Vote Due To The Abortion Travel Reimbursement Signaling That He Would Not Have Voted For The Measure. “Democrat Adam Frisch, a former Aspen Town Council member, recently called out his likely 2024 congressional opponent, U.S. Rep. Lauren Boebert, for her very vocal support for controversial culture-wars amendments to the National Defense Authorization Act. Frisch, a moderate Western Slope businessman who lost to the far-right Republican Boebert by just 546 votes in the Colorado 3rd Congressional District race in 2022, issued a press release blasting Boebert for ‘her anti-military stand’ on the House floor on Friday. From the release: ‘After voting in favor of an amendment that would ban reimbursing active duty military for costs related to seeking reproductive health care, Boebert applauded efforts to freeze military promotions over objections to the Defense Department’s reproductive health policies. She said such efforts are ‘dealing devastating blows’ to the ‘woke military.’” The highly polarizing Boebert, who lives in Silt, represents the majority of Colorado’s Western Slope, including part of Eagle County. Frisch has been outraising Boebert by large margins in the latest campaign fundraising reports.” (“Frisch Slams Boebert For ‘Anti-Military Stand’ In National Defense Authorization Act Debate In Congress,” Real Vail, 7/19/23)
